Writing

Nowadays many people and especially teenagers prefer watching films rather than reading books. I think that it's a very big problem. In books we can see a lot of heroes and actions. Some of them are good, so we could be like them or do that in real life, some of them are bad, so we already know what we mustn't do or what person we shouldn't be like. To solve this problem I think we need to make films that are made from books.

Let me tell you a little²⁰⁰ about one book that I read recently. This book is called "Crime and Punishment" and I want to see a film made by this book. All the actions are taking¹⁵⁰ in St. Petersburg. Rodion Raskolnikov kills an old lady due to his poor health and physical problems. Through this story you will see what will happen to Rodion. Will he handle the weight of murder or not.

If we really want to create a film using this book, we'll face some problems. Firstly, it's an Russian book. Russian language is very wide and different. In this language there can be hundreds meanings only²⁰⁰ to one word. It's gonna be difficult to fully translate all right. Secondly, we need to recreate basically an entire city. It's very difficult and expensive. Last but not least, we need a lot of actors that can cause problems with costumes and of course salary.

In conclusion I would like to say that watching this film you can understand that for every crime there's a punishment. It doesn't matter how you prepared for that. Through that book you understand that a really strong man is not who can handle the weight of crime and live like this here happened³⁰⁰, but a person who can take all his mistakes and change yourself to a better one.
